

Telemedicine is Important by Jeffrey Rosner

Telemedicine, or telehealth, has many advantages, including Convenience, Cost Savings, and Access to Care.

If your health plan does not have telemedicine, it's best to switch to a plan that offers Telemedicine. Why?

Convenience : Save time: You don't need to travel to an office, wait in line, or take time off work

Access care: You can connect with a doctor or nurse practitioner from anywhere

Get an appointment faster: You can schedule a video or phone appointment more quickly than an in-person visit

Cost savings: Avoid travel costs: You don't need to pay for gas, public transportation, or parking

My experience with Telemedicine: During the “covid pandemic” (2021) my wife had an irritation in her eye that she was able to get examined over a secure camera connection by a Medical Doctor. Remember this was a time when you could not get an appointment in a Doctor’s Office. She was diagnosed and received a prescription for anti bacterial eye drops which was sent directly to a pharmacy.

Recently (2025) I had a cough that would not stop and over the counter cough medicine was not effective. I was examined over the phone by a Telemedicine Doctor who sent a Prescription Cough Medicine to a local pharmacy. This medicine was effective at suppressing the cough and I was able to sleep and heal.

All the health plans we work with include Telemedicine. Please Get in touch to discuss a new health plan. Open Enrollment is All Year Round and there is no exit fee or penalty to leave an existing plan.
